New Home For Upland Firefighters

A WELCOME SIGHT FOR OUR FIREMEN -- Upland fire fighters, through the years, have probably operated and efficiently, too, are extremely antiquated conditions. The fight for a new central station has been a long, hard one, and the frame work of this new station should bring smiles. It should also give assurance and a sense of security to Upland home owners.

This is the crucial month

A walk through the Concourse area will be revealing to Upland residents as the building progress continues. Alleys and half streets are receiving a new face as trees are being placed in their planned locations. New lights are evident and the kiosk (central) progressing on schedule. A more enlightening picture of the schedule for this week is provided by a report from the City

Engineering Department: "With work now underway on the electrical system, the irrigation system, landscaping, kiosks, sign posts, drain lines, curbs, sidewalks and brick masonry in the Upland Town Center area, every day the appearance of the project is changing quite noticeably.

"The changes are becoming more dramatic with the appearance of the new ornamental lights first in the alleys and now along the Ninth Street Concourse. Trees are being planted along the alleys and soon will also appear in the Concourse areas.

"Within the next week the electrical control panels should be energized and some of the new ornamental lights will be lit evenings.

"This week will see the start of work on the west half of the brick drive that will encircle the Central Kiosk, and that will serve as a connection between the four blocks of the concourse development.

"Next week the west block of the Ninth Street Concourse will be paved and opened to traffic. When this occurs, Second Avenue south of Ninth St. will be closed, and Second Ave. north of Ninth St. and south of "C" St. will become a one way street with traffic entering at "C" St. and Second Ave. and exiting at Ninth St. and First Ave.

"Work continues on schedule with the Ninth St. Concourses due to be essentially complete by the end of this month.

Pitcher Vance Willson then drove home two runs with a clean single. Mike Blevins walked to fill the bases, and Mark Hayden delivered Long from third on a sacrifice.

The final two runs came on another safety, this time by Kurt Darrow.

Montclair came alive in the fifth inning to blow starter Willson off the mound as they scored all three of their runs. Gary Amos opened the inning with a single followed by Jim Stowers with a similar feat. Third baseman Ray Cunningham moved the two runners up a base with a sacrifice bunt. Campbell, who went the route on the mound, came through with a double to score Amos and Jim Monson scored the final two runs by repeating Campbell's effort.

CALIFORNIA STATE LEGISLATURE

Considerable attention is being given by us in the Legislature to the growing problem of crime in California, particularly so now that we have received figures showing a sharp increase in serious crimes committed during 1967.

A preliminary report by the State Bureau of Criminal Statistics indicates there was an 11.6 percent increase in the rate of major offenses last year over the 1966 total.

"Major offenses" are defined as willful homicide, robbery, felonious assault, forcible rape, burglary, grand theft and automobile theft.

As the result of a substantial increase in the number of robbery offenses, the rate of crimes of personal violence increased by 16.8 percent. And the bureau said the 1967 felony arrest rates jumped 19.1 percent above those in 1966.

"This is largely the result of the continued increase in drug law violations which in 1967 accounted for nearly one-fourth of all felony arrests and showed a 68.9 percent rate rise," the report said.

Kaiser shares with employees

A cash payment of $339,648 was shared Thursday by participants in the Kaiser Steel-Upland Steelworkers Long Range Sharing Plan at the company's Fontana, California plant, it was announced today by officials of the company and the U.S.W.A.

The cash payment of $339,648 for the month of March, equivalent to 38¢ per hour worked, will be distributed to 5876 employees. An additional $10,000 of the employees' gains was set aside for the new Hospital and Medical Benefit Plan for Retired Employees.

Also during March, 71 Kaiser Steel employees worked 6018 man-hours in the company's Employment Reserve, and 36 employees received a Displacement Differential.

Two Kaiser steel men get masters degrees

Nicholas L. (Nick) Rickard and Arnold Butki have been awarded the Master of Business Economics degree from Claremont Graduate School. Presentation of the cherished sheepskins was made at the Fontana Plant of Kaiser Steel Company by John D. Saussan, vice president-Operations, and Dr. John Kerzog, chairman of Business Economics at Claremont Graduate School.

Rickard joined Kaiser Steel in 1961 as a production assistant, progressed to shift foreman and in 1962 became general foreman in Specialty Manufacturing. He became general foreman in Cold Roll in 1966 and was named assistant superintendent last year.

He was graduated from Oregon State University with a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering. Rickard spent 5 3/4 years at Claremont Graduate School to complete the program for enforcement. "In order to tackle the problem of crime," a spokesman said, "There has to be a crusade on the part of the people to support law enforcement."

He pointed to one group of prominent citizens who have formed a statewide organization called Law Enforcement and Its Needs (LEAN) as representative of the increased interest responsible people are taking in the problem.

One of LEAN's objectives is to research and support legislation which will aid law enforcement agencies "in their fight to protect the citizens of California." It is working closely with state peace officers' and district attorneys' associations in determining their most urgent requests.

Several pieces of legislation now before us have been endorsed by these groups. Among them are:

... A bill to allow local governments to enact and enforce their own criminal laws to fit the community's situation. "This is a very important matter," said the author. "As our state grows more complex, local authority must return."

... Another measure would allow law enforcement agencies to use eavesdropping devices to obtain "nonphysical evidence" against criminals, a bill described as essential to combat organized crime.

The author said, "As organized crime becomes more sophisticated, we think law enforcement agencies need sophisticated tools."

Other legislation supported by this citizen's group includes antiobscenity bills, and measures designed to protect witnesses to crimes.

Speed limit raised for auto-trailer vehicles

Fishermen pulling trailers will be able to get to their favorite trout spot faster this year because the speed limit for cars pulling trailers has been raised from 50 to 55 mph, Captain Vern Nicholson of the California Highway Patrol said.

"This is only one of the laws relating to towing trailers that must be remembered and obeyed," the Captain said. "The lights on the trailer should be carefully checked to be sure they are in proper working order, and a safety chain augmenting the hitch connecting the trailer and the car is necessary. "If the trailer is so big that it prevents the driver from seeing to the rear with his inside mirror, the car must be equipped with two rearview mirrors, one on each side of the car.

Captain Nicholson said a pamphlet entitled "Trailer in California" which discusses other provisions of the vehicle code that apply to towing trailers is available upon request at his office.

"Just drop into the office and pick one up, or give us a phone call and we'll mail it to you.

"You can get to that trout stream faster this year but drive carefully and make sure you do get there," he added.

Uplander switches from teacher to Actor

Cal-Poly Journalism Professor Frank A. Tennant is switching from grease pencils to greasepaint to play the lead role in the musical, "Paint Your Wagon." The play will be presented in the college theatre, May 10 and 11, during Poly Yuc.

Tennant, who resides at 1779 North 2nd in Upland, was offered the lead role in the production by J. Robert Stahley, assistant professor of language arts and director of the Lerner and Lowe musical.

"You'd make a perfect Ben Rumson," Stahley told Tennant at lunch one noon in February. Rumson, Stahley explained, is a character in "Paint Your Wagon."

Tennant received his education at the University of California at Los Angeles. He earned his undergraduate degree in political science in 1950 and his Master of Arts degree in journalism in 1953.

Between his academic degrees the local resident edited the "Monterey Park Californian," a weekly newspaper and served in the U.S. Army. Before joining the Cal Poly faculty in 1955, he worked at the former Los Angeles daily newspaper, the "Mirror" and as a press relations director for Title Insurance and Trust Co.

The setting for the musical is a California mining camp during the gold rush. Ben Rumson is a 50-year-old widower with an 18-year-old daughter. Tennant, a bachelor, claims he is not as old as Rumson, but has accepted his sudden fatherhood. "It's fine -- as long as I didn't have to raise her."

Rehearsals were a revelation. "It's tiring," said Tennant, who has had to sacrifice some sleep to manage the additional 15-20 hours a week that he has had to devote to his new activity.

Singing and dancing were foreign to Tennant as acting. He claims he struggled to learn his lines, but that coordinating the dance steps with the words to the songs has been his biggest problem.

Stahley believes his discovery has set an excellent example for the rest of the cast. "Tennant is one of the hardest working cast members I've had on stage at Cal Poly. He was the first one to have his lines down pat."

The director also noted that Tennant's voice was "a great surprise." He not only can carry a tune, said Stahley, but he can sing.

Noting that most of the kids are working on sets and costumes as well as being in the show, Tennant said he had developed a great admiration for his fellow cast members. He feels working on the show has given him a chance to get to know students on an equal basis and that the students treat him the same as any other member of the cast.

LAW IN THE NEWS

A SERVICE OF THE STATE BAR OF CALIFORNIA

How can you cut the costs of handing your estate down to your heirs?

If you fail to plan, you may increase the cost to your survivors in fees, taxes, court costs, and cash sales of your assets.

The tax and fee-saving moves you should make depend on many things: The size and type of your estate, your income tax bracket, and state laws governing distribution and taxation on estates. Your lawyer can help you find your way through the laws to a solution to your special problems.

With planning, there are some places where you might make tax savings:

Federal taxes. Federal gift taxes are lower than Federal estate taxes. Perhaps you could give away some of your property while you live, instead of doing so in your will.

During your lifetime you may give $30,000 among any number of beneficiaries, free of federal gift tax, plus up to $3,000 a year each to as many people as you wish. Acting together, husband and wife can double these limits to $60,000 and $6,000.

State taxes. Suppose you own a summer home in another state where you spend quite a bit of time. Both California and the other state may well claim you as a resident when the time comes to distribute your estate. Both might well tax your estate as if you had been a resident. Have your lawyer advise you on how to avoid double taxation in such "residency" cases.

Executor's fees. In California the law sets the executor's fees at a percentage of its appraised value. If you desire, your will can say that your executor need not post a bond, the fee for which would otherwise come out of your estate. The wisdom of this clause would depend upon your family situation and the character of your executor.

Legal fees. California law also sets the fees for the attorney for the estate. The fees are based on the estate's appraised value, as in the case of the executor.

Write a letter now, telling where to find your will and other financial papers; the names and addresses of legatees; your executor's name and address; stockbroker and insurance agent; your major assets and where to find them; funeral instructions, and the like. Send copies to your lawyer and your executor.

Life insurance. If your life insurance is payable directly to a named beneficiary rather than to your estate, you may save on legal fees as well as on state inheritance taxes.

There are many other matters you should talk over with your lawyer.

Camp Fire Girls plan dance festival

"Dancing 'Round the World" is the theme for the tenth annual folk dance festival of Camp Fire Girls, Mt. San Antonio College Stadium.

The inspiration for the revival of the folk dance festival as a means for interesting children in healthful recreation came from the founder of Camp Fire Girls, Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick. He was responsible for the still continuing spring folk dance festival begun in 1910 for school children at Central Park, New York City. Dr. Gulick believed that participation in the various national dances would help to integrate the immigrant groups of the city.

Last year nearly 2000 girls participated in the local festival. A like number is expected this year. Girl dancers will wear colorful costumes and carry pennants or flags representing one of the countries from which the dances originated.

Flags of the 50 states of the U.S.A. will decorate the stadium.

A grand promenade will take all groups onto the field for the opening flag ceremony, after which dancing will continue for an hour.

Real Estate Facts

By Milton Stone, Pres., Ontario - Upland Board of Realtors.

It is sometimes assumed that there is a certain amount of competition between real estate brokers and attorneys in serving clients who want to buy or sell their real property.

In some cases this may be true, but usually it is not. Real estate brokers and attorneys are both licensed by the state to represent clients in the transfer of real property.

Working in concert, the California Real Estate Association and the State Bar developed a most important basic form for use in real estate transactions. This form, known as the "Real Estate Purchase Contract and Receipt for Deposit" was copyrighted by CREA.

Anyone may buy the form from CREA; members of the State Bar have the right to use the form or to sell or distribute it to its members for their information or use.

DEPOSIT RECEIPT This type of form, commonly referred to as a deposit receipt, is used by real estate brokers or Realtors in selling real estate. (A Realtor is a member of a local real estate board, the California Real Estate Association, and the National Association of Real Estate Boards.) This new CREA form contains provisions to conform with legal requirements in transferring title to property. It provides blank spaces to be filled in with the names of buyers and sellers, terms and conditions agreed upon, and price. It also contains warnings where they are appropriate so the users of the contract need not worry about overlooking or not being told about some important legal consideration. Both CREA and the State Bar have urged their members to use this form in preference to all others. It is offered as adequate for most transactions.

In the judgement of the two organizations, development of the form provided more built-in protection than those in use before its adoption.

Such formal cooperation between the parent organizations of Realtors and attorneys is an example of the increasing professionalization of those engaged in real estate practice. This began some 50 years ago when officials of CREA wrote and proposed California's real estate law, which was finally passed by the Legislature.

PROTECT PUBLIC This original law was proposed to protect the public against the unscrupulous and CREA has proposed and supported many changes or additions to the law since then for the same reason. The net effect is to increase the confidence of the public in the means of becoming property owners. The chances of blundering into a legal tangle during normal buying and selling are almost nonexistent.

It is significant that during these years the ratio of home owners to tenants has increased dramatically. People buy and sell houses on occasion as they would automobiles, a direct result of their confidence as well as the availability of real estate.

Realtors and other real estate brokers serve a special need and function in our society and are no more in competition with attorneys than certified public accountants, licensed stock brokers or insurance agents.

Warren Report critic to speak at Chaffey

One of the chief critics of the Warren Report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy will be the speaker at a Chaffey College community convocation, May 14.

He is Mark Lane, author of a best seller on the subject, "Rush to Judgment," and co-producer of a feature-length film documentary of the same title.

Lane will make his presentation at 11 a.m. in the college gymnasium. There will be no admission charge.

The speaker's topic will be "The Assassination of President Kennedy and the Two Investigations: the Warren Commission and Jim Garrison's Inquiry."

The attorney-writer has dwelt in the eye of the hurricane of controversy evoked by the Dallas tragedy ever since it happened.

Shortly after Nov. 22, 1963, he formed the Citizens Committee of Inquiry and began an independent search for the facts concerning the President's assassination.

Lane twice testified before the Warren Commission to make known his findings. He has consistently questioned the validity of the case against the murdered Lee Oswald as the lone assassin.

Now based in New Orleans, Lane reports that he has uncovered "startling new evidence" to support his conviction that more than one conspirator was involved.

MARK LANE

He is currently working as a special consultant to New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison who has also taken issue with the Warren Commission. Garrison's much headlined "case" against the Commission was largely sparked by "Rush to Judgment."

A New Yorker, Lane has practiced law for more than 15 years, almost exclusively as a defense counsel in the trial of criminal cases.

With the indorsement of JFK, he was elected to the New York legislature in 1960 where he pushed bills aimed at the abolition of capital punishment. The bills, defeated at the time, were subsequently passed.

The Lane program is sponsored by the associated student body.

and Mrs. Martin Delvillar, Sr. of 556 East G Street, Upland, was enrolled in the U. S. Army Signal School, Fort Monmouth, N.J. recently for intensive training in one of the 50 specialist courses taught here.

Private Delvillar is a 1967 graduate of Alta Loma High School.

Admission to the Signal School is limited to men of outstanding promise. Classed as a technical institute, the School gives major training in the technologies of electronic equipment, ranging from radio to "electronic brains." Meteorology, computer, television and communications are also taught.

During the fiscal year, approximately 18,000 enlisted men will be admitted to the School. All are among the Army's best in point of aptitude, educational attainments and practical ability. More than 90% are high school graduates and over 20% have attended college or engineering school.

Classes in many phases of training are conducted around-the-clock, with instructors and students divided into three daily shifts.

The Signal School courses are of varied length, but they are all aimed at qualifying the enlisted student for greater responsibilities and advancement in the Army.

Inyo-Mono trout waters stocked

The Department of Fish and Game poured 35,000 pounds of catchable-size rainbow trout into 50 roadside streams and lakes in the Inyo-Mono country for the opening of California's general 1968 trout season last Saturday, April 27.

Those 17 1/2 tons of catchable-size rainbows were to be frosting on the cake. Most of the area's lakes and streams have exceptionally good populations of hold-over trout from last season. Surplus brood trout have been stocked in many Inyo-Mono waters since last fall, and 477,000 rainbows were planted in Crowley Lake after it's 1967 season ended.

To sustain fishing quality, Inyo - Mono's roadside streams and lakes are scheduled to receive more than 1 1/2 million catchable-size trout in frequent replantings during the 1968 season.

The DFG will also restock Inyo - Mono's back-country lakes with more than 1 1/4 million fingerling trout during the coming summer. Most of the fingerlings will be dropped directly into the high, remote lakes from a specially equipped DFG plane.

Chaffey College to convert from semester to quarter system by '71

Chaffey College will go from the semester schedule to the quarter system by the fall of 1971.

The Chaffey board of trustees voted in favor of the action at an adjourned session Tuesday night. The vote was 4-0, with trustee Dr. Merle Cox absent owing to a long standing commitment.

The target date set to complete the conversion will allow the college three years of lead time. The period will be used to evaluate and re-arrange the study program and to implement the operation with a new administrative structure.

Shopping Bag Has New Blue Chip Catalogs

The new 116-page Blue Chip Stamp merchandise catalog, featuring (for the first time) women's fashions, menswear, automotive and pet supplies, is now available at Shopping Bag.

The full-color catalog contains 2094 items, 143 more than last year. Catalina sportswear, cashmere sweaters, Cantrac stockings, and Arrow shirts are among the new merchandise, along with facial saunas, Water Piks and physical fitness equipment.

In addition, exciting new colors - and a greater color choice - are available in towels, sheets (1967's most popular redemption item), bedding and housewares.

High on the priority list in facilitating the change in the academic cycle will be the appointment of a vice president in charge of instruction early in 1969. Another priority will be the employment of a dean of personnel services.

These new positions were recommended in the University of California (Berkeley) "Study of the Organizational Structure of Chaffey College." The board decided on the move to the quarter system after reviewing reports from its quarter system committee, guidance department, business office, Faculty Senate and Associated Student Body.

Trustees evaluated presentations on the subject by spokesmen from the University of California (Santa Barbara) and Cal Poly (Pomona), mainly in regard to articulation of semester and quarter course credits. Both institutions are on the quarter system.

The spokesmen were Chaffey's own Dr. Richard Beeks, now on a year's detached service as instructor at UCSB, and Dr. Kenneth Anderson, Cal Poly chemistry professor. Their consensus, reflected by the board's response, was that a change to the quarter system would be in the best interest of Chaffey College students.

Dr. Anderson stressed the flexibility of such a system as compared to the semester schedule. As far as conversion was concerned, Dr. Beeks described the method as "dividing the pie in different segments."

Considered by the board in arriving at its decision was the fact that neighboring four-year institutions are on the quarter system. It was pointed out that eventually all community colleges may be on the quarter time table on instructions from their new State Board of Governors.

Trustees plan to act on salary proposals at an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m., next Tuesday.

'How Great Thou Art' favorite hymn in area

"How Great Thou Art" came out as favorite hymn in the West End Poll conducted recently by the Seventh-day Adventist church.

Pollsters maintained three categories -- one each for children, teenagers, and adults.

"Children and teenagers, quite naturally, have different likes and dislikes from their parents," said Pastor Ansel Bristol of Upland. The children's favorite was "I'd Rather Have Jesus," second on their list was "In The Garden."

The teenagers' top tune was "It Is No Secret."

Pastor Bristol said of all adults polled, all named a hymn favorite, showing people do love good religious music.

The top 10 were: "How Great Thou Art," "The Old Rugged Cross," "Oh the Wonder of It All," "What A Friend We Have in Jesus," "I'd Rather Have Jesus," "It Took a Miracle," "Beyond the Sunset," "In the Garden," "The Love of God," and "Rock of Ages."

"It will be interesting to see how Our West End results compare with the findings of the nationwide hymn poll of which our poll was a part," the minister commented. "Results from the United States and Canada will be featured this October by the National radio and television programs, Voice of Promise and Faith for Today."

Phonics look-say battle heading for a climax?

BY ELMER WELLS
Education News Service

of Calif. Teachers Assoc. The confusing fight over the so-called "phonics" vs. "look-say" methods of teaching reading may be headed for a climax in California. Battling are State Superintendent of Schools Dr. Max Rafferty, long-time proponent of the phonics approach, several members of the State Board of Education and the State Curriculum Commission.

The issue came up again at the recent (April 4-5) meeting of the state board in Sacramento. Three events occurred:

Rafferty admitted he had sent a letter to libraries displaying new reading texts proposed for adoption by the curriculum commission in which he suggested that a book series he favors also be exhibited. His series was rejected by the commission.

A recommendation by Rafferty that the state set up in-service training courses for teachers in how to teach the phonics approach to reading. A recommendation by Rafferty that the state sponsor statewide spelling bees.

Board members questioned Rafferty's right to send the letter to the libraries, which said, in part:

"There is one series not listed but should be included in the displays. It is the Lippincott Basic Reading Series."

In defending his action, Rafferty said the letter was merely a suggestion. He is on record as favoring the series, which he claims places heavy emphasis on phonics. The commission, however, claims the books it has recommended by three other publishers also stress phonics and are superior to the Lippincott series.

Rafferty, who has threatened to urge Gov. Ronald Reagan and the Legislature to delay financing the $15 million reading book purchase if his text is not adopted, rejected the charge that his action would cause many publishers to make similar requests.

"The publishers can't request anything, but I can," Rafferty said. He added that the libraries are free to turn down his request.

On Rafferty's recommendation for statewide in-service phonics courses for teachers, Board Member Miguel Montes declared reading problems are not a simple "either-or question" such as the phonics vs. look-say debate.

"We need a variety of approaches," he said. "There are other factors involved that play an important role beside this one (phonics) aspect."

Among these he listed bilingual problems, physical problems, teacher training, class sizes, student motivation, home background and others.

Rafferty, however, said that in his view teachers wait too long before they introduce phonics. "They wait until about the end of the second grade," he said, "when phonics should come first."

Board Member Dorman Commons urged the board that if it wants to sponsor in-service courses, it should correlate these with new textbook adoptions. He suggested that Dr. Rafferty's proposal be broadened to help all teachers learn to work with new textbooks and materials, regardless of the subject.

"We had the problem of not enough in-service training for the new math adoption," he said. "We should provide some in-service training for the new reading adoption."

While it did not reject Rafferty's proposal outright, the board asked him to prepare a comprehensive plan for recommendation as suggested by Commons.

Rafferty agreed that he would, "but I will include phonics as an independent part." Rafferty's statewide spelling contest, which, he said, could be sponsored by service clubs, received board approval.

It, too, was criticized by some board members as not comprehensive enough to solve spelling problems for all children.

Big Bear adds its own trout

The Department of Fish and Game's stocking of catchable-size rainbow trout into Big Bear Lake will be augmented this year by 34,500 pounds of larger rainbows purchased by the Big Bear Valley Recreation and Park District.

The first of the extra trout went into the lake this Friday. The bonus trout will be stocked in mixed loads ranging from 9-inches to 5-pounds. Their average weight will be about a pound.

Bonus plants will be made every other week through June, but will be made weekly from July 1 through Labor Day. A special Bear Valley area tax fund pays for the commercially raised trout.

Disability Benefits For The Young People

The whole country is concerned about the growing casualty list in Viet Nam. An amendment, just passed by Congress regarding Social Security disability requirements is of particular importance to disabled servicemen and to all young workers suffering mental or physical disabilities.

Social Security disability benefits have always required five years of employment as one of the conditions for entitlement. Many young people could not meet this requirement.

With the changes, a worker under age 31 can qualify for monthly disability benefits with as little as 1 1/2 years of work or with work in half the period after age 21 up to the time of his disability.

We regularly visit hospitals which care for the wounded servicemen returned from Viet Nam. Many of these men will now qualify for benefits under Social Security. This would be in addition to any pension they might receive due to their service-connected disabilities. We are on the alert to spot such cases for immediate action. We work closely with the hospitals, the doctors, and service organizations.

Last fall, we interviewed a 24-year old service man whose disability would prevent him from working for a year or more. When we learned that he had been covered by Social Security for only 3 years including his military service, we were forced to tell him we could do nothing for him at this time. Last week we re-interviewed this man. He can now qualify for disability benefits. He is married and has two small children. His wife and children will also receive monthly benefits as long as his disability continues.

His monthly benefit will be based upon his two highest years of earnings and amount to $189.90. The total benefit for himself and his family will be $395.60 per month, tax free. These payments will continue until he recovers sufficiently to return to work. Not everyone would receive this much, but since he was an Officer Pilot, his benefit was based on maximum earnings.

These young people who have recently been denied, based on insufficient work credits should immediately recontact their Social Security office to see if they meet the new requirements.

If the individual is unable to travel to the office, a call from the family or a friend will insure a personal visit from a Social Security representative and quick action on a claim for disability. The Pomona Social Security Office is located at 445 East Holt Ave. Our telephone numbers are 986-2239 or 629-4021. We are open from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and from 8:30 a.m. until 7:30 p.m. on Mondays.

Quimby induced legislation to aid cities, counties

Assemblyman John P. Quimby (D-Rialto) co-authored two measures that would aid counties and cities with equal distribution of the sales tax monies.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment 36 and AB 910, which were heard before the Revenue and Taxation Committee of which Mr. Quimby is a member, would provide that he Legislature may, by general laws, authorize counties, cities and counties to enter into contracts to apportion between them the revenue derived from any tax imposed by any of them.

Quimby stated, "Under current law local government can not enter into revenue sharing agreements which would be possible under this amendment. A sterling example of what I am talking about is the recent controversy with the Inland Shopping Center in San Bernardino, not to mention the Shopping Centers in Montclair and West Covina, which siphon off sales tax revenues from surrounding communities."

"I believe it only fair that cities like Upland, Ontario, Pomona, etc., whose citizens do a lot of shopping in West Covina should receive their fair share of the sales tax distribution. The same holds true with Redlands, Colton, Fontana, and Rialto with the Inland Shopping Center in San Bernardino."

California's farmer-owned marketing cooperatives led the nation last year in total net dollar volume of business. The net value of farm products marketed by the associations totaled $1.8 billion. Minnesota ranked second with $810 million worth of farm products marketed through cooperative associations.

Genealogist to speak to area society

Mrs. A. Lee Harnagel of Pomona will tell of her experiences in doing genealogical research in East and West Germany and Czechoslovakia at the last yearly gathering of the Pomona Valley Genealogical Society, 7 p.m., Monday, May 13, in the first conference of the Pomona Public Library.

The Pomona resident will give hints and aids that will help others in doing research in these areas. She has received copies of Birth, Marriage and Death Records from East Germany.

The family names on which she is doing her research in these countries are: Bringe, Lange, Knuth, Reinert, Ehresmann (Ehresmann), Schukar, Harnagel, Waseman, Krebs, Kaiser, Zalud, and Capek. Mrs. Harnagel is a member of the La Verne Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, and she is presently conducting a workshop in genealogy for members of her church.

BAKE SALE: The Society is sponsoring a Bake Sale on the Pomona Mall near Fedway's on Saturday, May 11 from 9 a.m. until sold out. Proceeds from this sale will be used to purchase books and microfilm for the genealogical collection at the Pomona Library.

PAPER DRIVE: Mr. Richard Swank, 1920 Miramar, Pomona, is chairman for the Society's Paper Drive. Anyone wishing to contribute to this project may call Mr. Swank at 623-1079. Proceeds to be used for operating expenses for the Society and purchase of books and microfilm for the Pomona Library.

INDIAN CEREMONIALS: The Hopi Reservation, which lies north of Phoenix in Arizona, is reported to present many interesting Indian ceremonials.

Padua Hills featuring Saint Ysidro

A fiesta to Saint Ysidro, the patron of the farmers in Mexico, is the subject of the Spring production at Padua Hills Theatre.

"Fiesta a San Ysidro" will continue through June 8. One of the highlights of this stage drama is the rain dance, performed with the costumes and music as danced for hundreds of years in Mexico.

The English dialogue of the play tells the story of the transition of the farmers' belief in the ancient rain god to their faith in their patron saint, Ysidro.

The story of the poor farmers for whom drought is an ever present threat, offers the audience a deeper understanding of the character of the farmers in Mexico. "Fiesta a San Ysidro" is brightened with music, songs, and dances that have been for centuries as necessary to these people as the tilling of their lands and the rain they pray for.

The world renowned theatre offers a variety of productions the year around to keep alive the arts of Mexico and early California in a rich experience for everyone. Performances are given at 8:30 p.m. on Wednesdays through Saturdays with matinees at 2:30 p.m. on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

The theatre is located in Padua Hills on Padua Ave., three miles north of Foothill Blvd. in Claremont. Visitors will also find a dining room, patios, studio, pottery, and art shops all in a hacienda setting. The Mexican Players, who perform on stage, also serve and entertain in the dining room. They consider patrons as guests at their hacienda. Their sincere hospitality and friendliness make every visit a new experience. The dining room and shops are open daily except Mondays. Reservations for theatre and dining room are taken at (714) 626-1288.

High taxes

"High taxes, and what to do about them continues to be a priority subjects in Sacramento," said Senator William E. Coombs (R-Rialto). "The Governor's proposal, which would restore the exemptions and deductions to what they were before last year's changes, has met a mixed reception."

"Last year's changes hit middle-income families with a large number of children the hardest. When you lower anyone's taxes, you either have to lower the cost of government or increase taxes for someone else," the Senator continued.

A key issue, at this time, is the Governor's plan to appoint a task force to study and propose a complete overhaul of California's system of state and local taxation. There are many proposals, including transaction taxes, oil severance taxes, gross margins taxes, and net worth taxes.

All will be reviewed with emphasis on getting a combination in which the revenues will grow as fast as the population.

Cutting expenses is of great concern. The number of task force proposals which have been put into effect have about doubled in the last month and their effect is being felt in the over-all cost of government.

"All told," the Senator concluded, "we're making progress. Maybe it isn't as fast as we'd like but over a period of time it definitely shows."

TO SAINT YSIDRO -- the Apache Indians of Mexico give thanks at harvest time. The current play at Padua Hills Theatre, "Fiesta a San Ysidro" is about this patron saint of farmers. Hector Chavez portrays a grateful Indian in this scene from the production. With English dialogue and Spanish and Indian music, costumes, and dances, the story of a drought, despair, hope, and the coming of rain is told in an inspiring manner. The play will run from April 24 through June 8 with performances at 8:30 p.m. on Wednesdays and Saturdays at 2:30 p.m. Padua Hills Theatre sponsored by Padua Institute, is dedicated to the preservation in performing arts, and in atmosphere, the culture of Mexico and early California. The Padua Dining Room and art studios are open daily except Mondays.

Upland's New Teen Center

INSTEAD OF A GUITAR, A BROOM -- "The Foggy Days," a band of teen musicians will provide entertainment for the "grand opening" of the Upland Teen Center Saturday but in the mean time work to clear debris from a demolished wall takes precedence. Also helping out with the Saturday clean-up and floor painting job are the Ben Grashons (a girls service club).

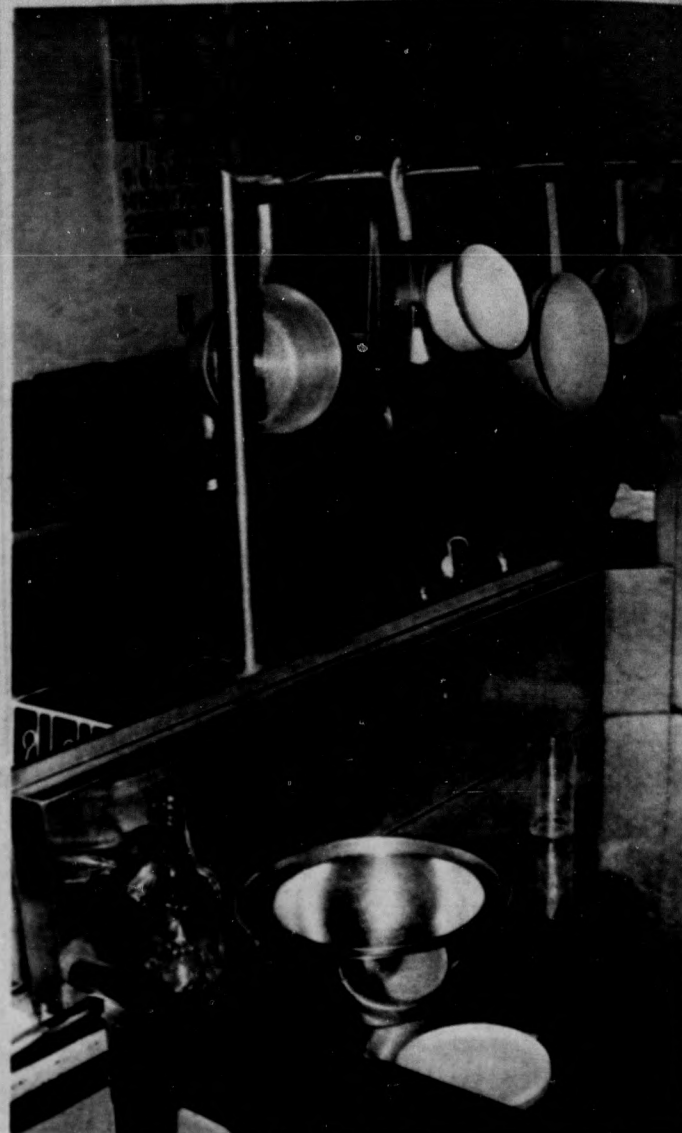

LARRY MAGNON, one of the owners of the donated building, goes over paint selections with two high school helpers at the Teen Center.

MEMBERS of the Scheithallians Tri-Hi-Y Club give the Teen Center Library a coat of paint in preparation for a "preview opening" Thursday, and the grand opening on Saturday. The group has also made book shelves for the room which will have paperbacks and magazines for teen reading pleasure.

UPLAND WOMAN'S CLUB kitchen is still the same size but new ovens and stainless steel sinks and dishwasher have cut costs and increased efficiency. More food can be prepared faster with the new facilities and only two employees instead of five can handle the whole operation.

UPLAND WOMAN'S CLUB president Mrs. L.H. Banta proudly displays a new addition to the dining facilities at the headquarters building, 590 N. 2nd, a double capacity electric coffee urn. The pantry area where the coffee maker is located was recently remodelled, providing more room and cabinets.

Foothill LL Season Opens

After a perfect strike delivered by one of its founders, Upland's former Mayor James Christensen, the Foothill Little League began its 1968 season last week.

Ralph's Rascals started the day off with an 18-3 victory over Lesondak Plumbing.

Skycrest Ford took the second game from Western Moulding 3-1 with John Schiro batting in all three of Skycrest's runs, to lead the League with five RBI's.

In the afternoon play Seven-Up beat Upland Breakfast Lions by the score of 17-0; with Dave Shirley pitching a no-hitter and allowing only one base on balls. The last game of the day was won by Al's Enco when they beat Sierra Lathing 13-1.

Earlier in the week Skycrest Ford defeated Ralph's 6-4 with John Schiro slamming two home runs for Skycrest and Mark Schneekluth hitting one for Ralph's.

Although John Hill struck out 10 batters, Lesondak Plumbing was defeated in their outing 8-6 by Western Moulding, with Steve Scott and Stu Duval homering in the last inning to win the game.

Seven-Up lost its opener to Al's Enco by a score of 11-8. Sierra Lathing beat the Upland Breakfast Lions in their first outing 11-6.

JAMES CHRISTENSEN, former Mayor of Upland is seen throwing out the first pitch of the season for Foothill Little League. An active supporter of youth baseball in Upland, Christensen, was also a local umpire and a manager in Foothill Little League for four years.

SHOWN AFTER Foothill Little League opening day ceremonies, held on May 4, at San Antonio Park in Upland, is League President, Jack Clinton, left, wishing a successful season to Frank Reed, right, manager of Western Moulding.

Rodeos, Roses, Rum Run And Races Await Travelers

An intercollegiate rodeo, rose show, turtle races and a pie-throwing contest sprinkle variety into the Southland's events during May, according to the calendar issued by the Visitors Council today. The Council uses the colorful events in its work of building the area's billion-dollar tourist business. The intercollegiate rodeo will be held May 17 and 18, under lights at 7 p.m. in the football stadium at Pierce College in Woodland Hills. College cowboys and cowgirls will compete in bronc and brahma bull riding, calf and steer roping, barrel racing and goat tying. Pierce's team will be meeting student teams from Arizona State University, Nevada State and the two Cal Poly's. It is the final championship rodeo of the college season. Started as a gag 23 years ago, the Grand National Turtle Sweepstakes will draw some 20,000 people to the desert town of Joshua Tree May 4 and 5. Desert turtles are loosed in the center of a big circle and the first one out wins. Visitors can rent a turtle.

An old-fashioned pie throwing contest will be a feature of Conejo Valley Days to be held for the 12th year from May 29 to June 9. A western parade will be held June 8 and a western pit barbecue June 9. There will be RCA rodeo both days. The annual Mother's Day Rose Show will be held May 11 and 12 at one of the world's most famous rose gardens, the Pageant of Roses garden at Rose Hills Park in Whittier. This is one of the peak blooming periods of the 4000 bushes and trees of 400 varieties including freak tints of greenish and lavender.

Thousands of wildflowers gathered from mountainsides, meadows and desert will be exhibited in the town hall of the old gold town of Julian in a constantly replenished display from May 11 to 26. The spectacular "Run, Run" race of powerful ocean-racing boats will start at Long Beach, every morning from May 4 start at Long Beach's Belmont pier at 9 A.M. on May 25. The racers can be seen from any vantage point along the coast as far as Malibu. There will be rowing races, too, at Long Beach, every morning from May 4 through May 11 in the Marine Stadium where the 1932 Olympic water events were held. Antique planes will fly over the route of the parade of antique cars and antique floats celebrating Old Time Days at Lemon Grove on May 25. There will be special children's old-fashioned costume contest. Any one can name a hen and enter it in the world's only Hen Derby at Ontario. The hen laying the most eggs between May 8 and June 9 wins $100. There's also a $25 consolation prize for the "laziest hen."

Train Up With A Child.
In cooperation with National Family Week, the Church of God of Prophecy, with international headquarters in Cleveland, Tennessee, is sponsoring, "TRAIN UP A CHILD", until May 23, with special emphasis on family worship and Christian training in the home. General Overseer of this organization, M.A. Tomlinson, who has recently returned from a world tour of visiting church leaders and missionaries said, "America is in serious trouble, and I believe that one way to help alleviate some of it, is to have the principles of Christ taught in the home." "The Church cannot possibly supply all the christian training a child needs. Parents must realize this and act accordingly with family worship and christian training in the home if our nation is to survive the onslaught of moral degradation and atheistic teachings," said the bishop. According to a church spokesman this is the first time that such a gigantic simultaneous evangelist thrust has been attempted by the church. The local congregation, located at 8137 E. 9th St. Cucamonga will be conducting their special services each evening at 7:30 p.m. Pastor A.W. West welcomes Families to attend.

A Buddhist Temple In An Etiwanda Vinyard

Blending An Oriental Religion Into A Small American Community

By Dianne Walters

ETIWANDA - Buddhism and grape vines—a curious mixture that has brought the Joshin Suzuki family to America.

Towering above the vineyards along Etiwanda Avenue, the Myohoji Temple appears to be a pleasant oasis in an otherwise drab landscape.

The Nichiren Shoshu of America chose Etiwanda for the site of its new temple because of its proximity to Los Angeles. Etiwanda is approximately 50 miles east of Los Angeles.

The wood, glass and concrete Buddhist Temple was begun during the Year of Great Advancement on March 19, 1966 and completed in May, 1967.

SUZUKI'S ARRIVAL

It was officially finished, however, with the arrival of its chief priest, Rev. Joshin Suzuki.

Suzuki was chosen to be administrator at the Sokagakkai Sect's first American temple by its High Priest in Japan. The Etiwanda temple is not only the sect's first American temple, it is their first temple outside of Japan.

Before being transferred to the United States, Suzuki was chief priest of a Sokagakkai Temple in Okaya City, Japan.

The son and grandson of Buddhist priests in Japan, Suzuki describes his transfer as sudden and unexpected.

"For four or five days, my wife was 'undecided' about going," he said with a grin during an interview with the family last week.

After apparently winning over his wife, Suzuki, his wife, Akiko, and their two children, Yuri, 6, and Yasumasa, 3, left Japan—arriving in the United States on Jan. 9.

TASK OF ADAPTING

Upon their arrival, they were immediately taken to the residence quarters in back of the temple. There they began the enormous task of adapting to a foreign community.

"Before I left Japan, I was worried about not being able to speak English," Mrs. Suzuki explained. "Now I seem to be slowly learning."

Mr. Suzuki also found the language barrier to be the most difficult part of living in the United States.

"I have a long way to go yet," he said in reference to his English. "The children are doing much better."

Suzuki's daughter, Yuri, is a first grader at the Smith School in Etiwanda. In addition to attending classes in English, she has an abundance of friends who are willing to lend a hand when it comes to a language problem.

Their three-year-old son, Yasumasa, attends nursery school in Montclair. His English has also been greatly aided by his American School chums.

T.V. FANS

While watching television is a favorite past time of millions of Americans, the Suzuki family has found an educational as well as entertainment value in it.

"It helps us learn English," he said. "Simple movies and westerns are

Although the climate is different, the terrain unfamiliar, and almost everyone seems to be speaking English, their lives have not changed radically since moving to California.

As in Japan, their religion is an integral part of their every day lives.

Rising early in the morning—around 6:30 a.m.—Suzuki does his morning duties at the main altar in the temple while his family does theirs at a private altar in the residence quarters.

MORNING DUTY

The morning duty is the basic ritual of reading the Sutra and chanting the Daimoku—"Nam Myo Ho Ren Ge Kyo." This is part of the prayer chanted before the object of worship that has been handed down for 700 years from True Buddha—Nichiren Daishoin.

Followers of this Buddhism believe that by praying to the object of worship, they may find the inner strength necessary to triumph over their problems.

After the morning duties, the family eats breakfast and the children are sent off to school.

Most of Suzuki's day is filled with administrat-

RELAXING IN HIS GARDEN—A sliding glass door in the residence quarters of the Myohoji Temple reveals a scenic garden of blue water, rocks and a variety of flowers. Above Suzuki takes time out of his busy schedule to relax in his showplace garden. At right, the family cat appears to be watching for a tasty fish to swim by. Have you had any luck yet kitty?

ive duties and professional study.

These duties include marriages, funerals, and conversion ceremonies.

CONVERSIONS

According to Suzuki, conversions now number more than 1000 per month with 80 to 90 percent of the religion's membership being western.

Although it was founded 700 years ago, its growth has only been evidenced since the end of World War II. In the past 10 years it has become the most powerful sect in Japan.

The conversion ceremony is a profession of faith and the presentation of an object of worship to the new member.

The object of worship is a small duplicate of the one found at the Etiwanda temple.

"To the Buddhist, their god exists inside of everyone," Suzuki explained. "The object of worship is like a mirror."

SELF-REALIZATION

The religion is based on self-realization. By praying to the object of worship, members hope to activate themselves in order to cope with life.

Members of the sect worship at home, using temples, such as the one in Etiwanda, for only special occasions—weddings, conversion ceremonies, funerals, etc.

In the evening, Suzuki concludes his official temple duties by repeating his morning duties at sunset.

His evenings are usually spent with the family around the television set.

What is the part about living in the United States the Suzukis like most?

"The dry sunny climate," Suzuki answers quickly.

WONDERFUL AMERICAN CUSTOM

For Mrs. Suzuki her favorite aspect of California living is what she calls "the wonderful American custom."

She is referring to her modern kitchen at the temple.

She described her kitchen in Japan as similar to the 1920 General Electric display she saw during a recent trip to Disneyland.

PRAYING TOGETHER—Not usually praying together as a family, the Suzukis are shown praying to the Object of Worship at the main temple altar. While Suzuki usually prays at the temple altar, his wife, Akiko, center, and their children, Yuri, to the left of her mother, and Yasumasa, right, pray at a smaller altar in the residence quarters. Unlike other churches, the Myohoji Temple does not have seating for its members. Only a wall-to-wall carpet cushions knees of worshipers before the Object of Worship.

"Shopping is also different here," she said. "Because we have very small refrigerators in Japan, we have to shop every day instead of twice a week."

"It is easier to be a housewife here," she said.

Suzuki is only temporarily assigned to the United States. In two years he will probably return to Japan.

It is only when I am inconvenienced by the language that I long to return to Japan, Suzuki said.

BYE POP—Three-year-old Yasumasa speeds past his father, Rev. Joshin Suzuki, in his favorite vehicle—a red fire truck. The Suzuki children and their American playmates use the parking lot in front of the Myohoji Temple as a playground.

CHANTING THE DAIMOKU—Facing the Object of Worship, Rev. Joshin Suzuki reads the Sutra and chants the Daimoku as part of his morning and evening duties. The Object of Worship is not shown in the above picture, however, at the request of Suzuki. Every part of the altar and the gold Object of Worship was brought over from Japan.

Wine cooks sell books

A paperback edition of Wine
Advisory Board's cook book
"Favorite Recipes of California Winemakers" was placed in book stores, markets, and other book selling establishments last month by its publisher Essandess Special Editions of Simon & Schuster, Inc.

The paperback edition is a 96-page abridgement of the original 128-page spiral bound hard cover cook book which has sold over 250,000 copies to date. The new edition includes the most important categories of recipes that appear in the original book as well as the hand illustrations.
Newly designed covers in full color enhance this large unusually handsome 8 1/2" x 10" paperback.

Another book of recipes by California winemakers, "Adventures in Wine Cooking," published by Wine Advisory Board, has sold 150,000 copies to date with demand still strong. Like its companion
"Favorite Recipes," it is bound in colorful hard covers with metal spiral bindings enabling it to lie flat or stand up for easy reference while cooking. There is no duplication of recipes or features.

Spiral bound hard cover editions retail at $2.50. All three books can be obtained from your local bookstore or from Wine Advisory Board, 717
Market Street, San Francisco.

California's wide variety of farm products, totaling $4 billion annually measured at the producer level, expands into a total value of $16 billion at the consumer level.

SPEAKER PHONE IN USE—Witnesses involved in cases before a California Municipal Court here are testifying from their homes or offices through a newly installed speaker telephone system, General Telephone & Electronics Corporation announced today. In what is believed to be the first such application of a Speakerphone in the United States, General Telephone Company of California, a GT&E subsidiary, has installed the unit in the Municipal Court of the Downey Judicial District, presided over by Judge Leon Emerson. The special telephone is used to corroborate the more routine details of a case and is never used to question witnesses whose statements would be of vital importance to a case.

Hospital Board honors three at annual meeting

Three members of the medical staff were honored at the annual meeting of the San Antonio Community Hospital Association held in the Alta Auditorium of the hospital on Wednesday evening, April 17.

J. Audry Armstrong, President of the Board of Trustees, presided.

Members of the Medical Staff on the hospital were honored — Mary Craig McClellan, M.D., James Henry Beggs, M.D., and Calvert L. Emmons, M.D.

The following Board of Trustees was elected: for one-year terms: John B. Craig, M.D., Neil D. Hickcox, William R. Mason and Mrs. A. L. Weber; for two-year terms: J. Audry Armstrong, Allan S. Barr, Frank C. Melone, M.D., and Harold S. Stewart; for three-year terms: William Batchelor, Glenn B. Dornier, Frank H. Mogle and Harold Zena.

Following are biographical notes from the Board resolutions paying tribute to the three doctors:

In 1918, Dr. Mary Craig McClellan entered into the private practice of medicine, in association with her father, Dr. William H. Craig; her brother, Dr. John B. Craig; and Dr. Arthur L. Weber.

She remained in active practice for 44 years, providing distinguished medical service to citizens of this community. At a time when few women pursued a medical education, Doctor McClellan received her degree in Medicine from the University of California in 1916. She obtained additional training at Children's Hospital in San Francisco and later studied in Europe.

Doctor McClellan was instrumental in establishing the Sick Baby Fund in this hospital and donated hundreds of hours of her time taking care of sick children through this fund. One of her particular interests was the health and welfare of Mexican-American children and their families in this community. Countless hundreds of babies were delivered by "Doctor Mary", as she is affectionately known, and the medical community has been enriched by her strong personality through forty years of active practice. Doctor McClellan has held membership in the San Bernardino County Medical Society, the California Medical Association and the American Medical Association since 1918. In 1950, she was selected Woman of the Year on the basis of being the woman who contributed the most to the community.

Dr. James Beggs came to Ontario to establish a medical practice in 1939. He has been a member of the San Bernardino County Medical Society, the American Academy of General Practice and served as Vice President of the Medical Staff of this hospital in 1951 and 1959.

He established the James Beggs Trophy award, which is annually given to a member of the Medical Staff. In 1964, the hospital honored Doctor Beggs as Honorary Building Superintendent for his interest in the hospital's construction program.

Over the years of his association with San Antonio Community Hospital, Doctor Beggs has not only served his patients well, but also has endeared himself to his colleagues and all who have worked with him.

As a physician serving patients in the West End of San Bernardino County since 1915, Dr. Calvert L. Emmons has provided distinguished and unusual service to this hospital and the communities it serves. Doctor Emmons came to California in 1907 and received his medical degree Army Private First Class Carlton A. Brownless, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton J. Brownless, 13166 Base Line Rd., Edwanda, is participating in "Operation Truong Cong Dinh" in Vietnam with other members of the 9th Infantry Division.

Located in the Mekong Delta region south of Saigon, the allied counter offensive also includes the 11th Regiment of the Republic of Vietnam's Seventh Army, as well as American Naval and Air Cavalry units.

Named after a local patriot, the operation is designed to drive the communists away from the major population centers and keep traffic moving on Route 4, the vital lifeline between Saigon and the southernmost region of the delta.

So far the operation has accounted for over 1,000 Viet Cong dead and has shoved the enemy away from My Tho, the capital of Dinh Tuong Province.

Harry Killen

Sergeant Harry L. Killen, son of Mrs. Mable V. Killen of Huntington, W.Va., is a member of the U.S. Air Force specialist teams sent to the Republic of Korea during the U.S. forces buildup triggered by the North Korean crisis.

This forward command element of the Fifth Air Force controls all USAF units deployed to or already in place in Korea. As part of increased readiness operations, Pacific Air Forces tactical fighters, interceptors and reconnaissance aircraft have been augmented by units of the Tactical Air Command and Aerospace Defense Command.

The sergeant is permanently assigned at Kadena AB, Okinawa.

The Department of Fish and Game has scheduled the stocking of catchable size rainbow trout this week in the following San Bernardino County Streams and lakes:

Imaginative Decorating

Remodeling? Let your imagination run wild! Pick colors and patterns that lend a personalized touch.

To implement your decor, let common sense be your guide, says the Tile Council of America. Use time-tested, tried-and-true surfacings that give lasting, unfading service.

Ceramic tile, says the Council, is such a finishing material. First used in Egypt over 7,000 years ago, tile offers the consumer more than ever before.

It resists scratches, burns, dents and wear; stays clean and new-looking with only an occasional once-over with a damp cloth or mop, and lasts a lifetime.

American manufacturers today offer an ever-widening variety of new tile colors, shapes, sizes and types, making possible a myriad of different and distinctive decors.

For example, the new Moorish curved quarry tiles can give a room an authentic "Spanish Look."

Glazed and unglazed ceramic mosaic tiles and extra-duty glazed wall tiles in many new colors, sizes and shapes are ideal on wall and floors.

Finally, the new glazed sculptured wall tiles can turn a bare, uninteresting wall into an accent wall of classic beauty. (NP Features)

VV Interior Contract Let

Hamilton - Howe, Inc. was assigned this week to create the interiors for the sales office and model homes for American Housing Guild's new $30 million golf course community in San Dimas, Harry Lasky, president of the building firm's Los Angeles division, announced.

ZION, ILL., NEWS: "Is Congress a toothless watch dog of the Treasury? Who passed all the spending bills which are being denounced? Well! Old watch dog, you'd better start doing some watching. People are getting fed up with a Congress which lays off its responsibility to the Executive branch of the government."

Resident receives medal of valor at State Capital

Ruben E. Coyle, of 9618 Tudor, was among 11 state worker heroes honored publicly by Governor Ronald Reagan and other top state officials, April 24, in Sacramento.

Coyle is a program administrator with the State Department of Corrections in Los Angeles.

The occasion was the third California Medal of Valor banquet sponsored by the California State Employees' Association. Spotlights were state workers who performed extraordinary acts of heroism at great risk to their own safety and lives.

The medal is the state's highest valor award. In his keynote speech Governor Reagan saluted the men for the courage and spirit of self-sacrifice that earned each his commendation. Federal Judge Thomas J. MacBride then called each man forward individually to hear his agency director read the citation accompanying the medal.

Names of all 11 Medal of Valor men have been engraved on brass plates affixed to a permanent plaque in the east corridor of the State Capitol.

Social Security is a "necessary program; it's here to stay, and all of us, particularly those of us in business who pay half the tax load and collect the other half must see that it is kept strong, and centered on purposes which it can best serve," stated Mr. Allan Shivers, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. He added: "We must be ever on guard to keep the program from veering off into a related program, or into other unrelated channels. . . . We must protect Social Security from these invasions."

sence from the San Bernardino Police Department so that he can devote his full efforts toward the campaign. He has opened his campaign headquarters on May 5, at 519 N. Mt. Vernon Ave., San Bernardino.

Manny outlined his reason for being a candidate for the Assembly as follows: He feels that the American people are tired of the attacks upon our law enforcement agencies, who, after all, are the keepers of the laws that society has created. He further stated

Students seek recognition for artistic ability

An exhibit of 59 outstanding paintings of junior and senior high school student artists will be on display in the Ontario Public Library, 215 East "C" St., Ontario, until May 18.

The paintings have been chosen as entries in the Red Cross Youth International School Art Program, for the Chaffey Service Center and American Red Cross, from art works submitted by the art classes of Chaffey, Upland and Alta Loma High Schools; and Pioneer, Vernon and Upland Junior High Schools.

The selection of 59 paintings to go to the Western Area Office, American Red Cross, in San Francisco, was made by Anthony Ivins and Hendrik Grise, professors of Art at Chaffey College.

After further screening in San Francisco and Washington D.C., chosen paintings will be sent on tour of European and Asiatic countries, including some nations behind the Iron curtain.

Also to be exhibited is an International Art Exchange portfolio containing many pictures from abroad.

Missionaries to end conference

The Fifth Annual Missionary Conference at the Foothill Baptist Church will end this week with Dr. Edward Larson and Rev. Charles Trout, a 21-year veteran missionary from the Congo, speaking.

Dr. Larson is the southwestern representative for the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society, Wheaton, Ill. Dr. Larson whose office is in Long Beach, will be the guest speaker tonight, (Wednesday) at 7:15 p.m. with the highlights of his recent trip to South America and the Orient visiting the missionary stations.

Rev. Trout will be speaking at all of the Sunday services on May 12. He was born in Congo, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Trout, Sr., missionaries for many years in that land. His high school training was completed there and then graduated from the Bible Institute of Los Angeles in La Mirada.

Rev. Trout's work often includes a safari over rough and muddy roads through the jungles to remote villages. Since 1962 Trout and the other missionaries in the Lake Kivu area have been forced to evacuate four times from their homes in Congo to the neighboring countries. Because of these evacuation Trout could see the importance of training national leaders to carry on the different phases of Christian work so this became one of his most important tasks.

Quevedo was born and reared in San Bernardino. He is married to Jennie Quevedo and they have two children, a daughter Gloria Jean, age 21 and a son Frankie, age 22, who is presently in the U.S. Army stationed in Viet Nam.

Of the 25.5 million living veterans, 1.5 million receive disability compensation and 1.18 million receive pension for nonservice disabilities.

Quevedo served in the U.S. Navy both in World War II and in Korea.

He is a 22 year veteran of the San Bernardino Police Department.

He has served the community in the patrol, traffic and detective divisions. He was Commander of the Juvenile Division.

Today, he is in charge of the Community Relations Division of the San Bernardino Police Dept.

Flight training for Post-Korean Conflict veterans working toward a flying career goal is now offered by the Veterans Administration.

John Briggs disappointed not carrying Reagan bill

Assemblyman John V. Briggs (R-Fullerton) expressed "disappointment over the Governor's office to initiate changes in the income tax laws via another author."

Briggs has been campaigning for months for his AB 512 to roll the Governor's $4 million income tax hike of 1967 back to the lower level of 1966 under Governor Brown.

Briggs said: "Naturally, I was disappointed over not being asked to carry the bill to make these changes to give the middle income taxpayer with families a break from the outrageous tax he is now forced to pay."

"The heat the Governor has been feeling has been generated to a great extent by the introduction of my bill, as well as the efforts of others. Not to mention the tax was just paid on the 15th. Therefore, I think I should be carrying this change."

Briggs said his mail has been extremely heavy in the last few days in support of the bill. Monday and Tuesday brought over 300 letters to his office. "The Chairman of the Committee, John Veneman, author of the Governor's bill, told me that he received a call from the mail room to come pick up his Liesmer said a peak attendance of 2,500 is expected for the semi-annual event to be held at the Chino High School Gymnasium, 5660 Park Place, Chino. The delegates will represent eighteen congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in the East San Gabriel Valley. "The convention will serve a two-fold purpose," Liesmer stated, "It will provide much spiritual information to assist delegates to carry on their ministerial activity and also provide an opportunity for Christian fellowship."

Winning works may be published in the Twin Counties Press Club Annual with all other rights reverting to the authors upon publication. Only First Place Awards will be considered for publication in the annual. All other works will not be published and authors will retain all rights.

St. Joseph church has ice cream social Approximately 2500 parishoners and guests were served 100 cakes, 65 gallons of ice cream and 50 gallons of punch by the members of the Catholic Teen Organization of St. Joseph church in Upland Sunday afternoon following the annual crowning of the Blessed Mother.

One thousand children of the parochial school and the C.C.D. classes gathered at the school grounds at 2:00 P.M. and, while singing hymns, formed a procession to the outdoor altar, where the May queen, Janet Flynn, crowned the statue of Our Lady.

Father Thomas Briody, pastor, assisted by Frs. William Valverde and Edward Kelley, officiated at the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at the portable altar which had been decorated for the occasion by members of the 8th grade class.

Serving as attendants for Miss Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Flynn, were Marie Liberator, Linda Hurley, Martha Valadez and Helen Marquez. Carrying the crown of flowers was Angela Grillo and capeholders and flower girls were Sandy Pusey, Teresa Schiro, Lisa Robles, 1st graders; Rebecca Ward, Karen Ferraro, Kelley Crouse, Kindergarten; Fionnula Barrett, Cheryl Guitierrez and Diane Flynn, 2nd graders.

Following the ceremonies, the teen club served the ice cream and punch which they furnished and the cakes which were baked and donated by ladies of the parish guilds.

Award Welding Examining Honor

REDLANDS, CALIF.-- Three Lockheed Propulsion Company employees have just completed special two-week courses in electron beam welding at Hamilton Standard Corporation's service school in Windsor Locks, Conn., in the rocket firm's drive to develop an electron beam or EB welding capability second to none in the industry.

Quality engineer Mitchell J. Benemie became the first person to complete a special course instituted by Hamilton Standard which meets the Navy and Atomic Energy Commission specifications to qualify EB welding examiners. Already certificated by the Navy, Benemie will be recognized by the AEC as an examiner after he prepares a qualified weld procedure for the firm's EB welder. This is scheduled to occur soon.

Raymond Nelson, a welding technician, became the first customer employee to complete a newly established EB welding course qualifying him as a certified EB operator.

As an examiner, Benemie is qualified to direct EB inspection activities, certify operators and inspectors, qualify procedures, generate procedures and establish inspection criteria. The rocket firm began establishing an EB welding capability nearly two years ago and is recognized nationally for its work. Lockheed welds rocket motor chambers using the advanced technique in addition to employing it in commercial welding activities.

To Sponsor Show Series

POMONA, Calif. - Five leading Pomona downtown commercial institutions will cooperate in a series of 1968 invitational shows at the Pomona Fox Theatre which are expected to draw thousands of Pomona Valley women to the Mall area each month.

The prime mover in the cooperative venture, President Wilson H. Asdel of the Inland Bank, said today that the first show will feature a quite appropriately titled film, "For the First Time," and will be presented on Wednesday, May, at 1 p.m. The film stars Mario Lanza and Zsa Zsa Gabor.

A special surprise guest will also be brought to Pomona to greet the ladies on behalf of the five sponsors who, in addition to the bank, include Cave Pharmacies, the John P. Evans men's, boys' and ladies' store, and the Fedway and Orange Belt department stores.

Inland Bank had sponsored the matinee series for women by itself for many months, with a series of top films playing to capacity audiences. Other merchants, impressed with the good will the movies created, expressed an interest in the series and were promptly offered an opportunity to share in the sponsorship.

CP's Big 'Let 'er Buck' Scheduled For May 10-11

Cowboys, cowgirls, horses, calves and bulls will meet in the rodeo arena of California State Polytechnic College, Pomona, on the weekend of Friday and Saturday, May 10-11. The event is the West Coast Regional Semi-Finals of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association.

A feature of the rodeo this year is that a child, under the age of 12, will be admitted free when accompanied by an adult. Regular admission price is $1.75.

The rodeo is one of the major events of the 26th annual Poly Vue open house, "A Peck at Poly." This year the rodeo will have three performances. Proceeds will be donated to a special project at Pacific State Hospital in Pomona.

Rodeo performances will be held from 8 to 10:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, and from 3 to 5:30 p.m. on Saturday. Participants in the rodeo will be men and women college students from colleges and universities on the West Coast.

Approximately 300 performers are expected to compete.

Lex Connelly, will announce the results of the Poly Vue rodeo. Connelly is familiar to many who have watched the rodeo performances on the "Wide World of Sports" on the ABC television network.

Men's events in the two-day rodeo include saddle-bronc riding, bare-back bronc riding, calf roping, team roping, ribbon roping and bull dogging.

The women will be competing in the barrel racing and goat-tying events. A specialty event this year is calf-pantsing, in which a team of four wrestles a calf to the ground and puts a pair of pants on its hindquarters.

The collegiate teams and individuals earn points towards regional and national honors.

Trophies will be awarded to the all-around cowboy and cowgirl of the rodeo. First place winners in each event will receive a belt buckle, the second place winners receive a pair of spurs, belts are awarded to the third place winners and certificates will be awarded to the fourth place winners.

Cash prizes will be given to the winners of each event at the end of each performance. In addition, a hard luck trophy will be given to the participant who has the worst luck of the two days.

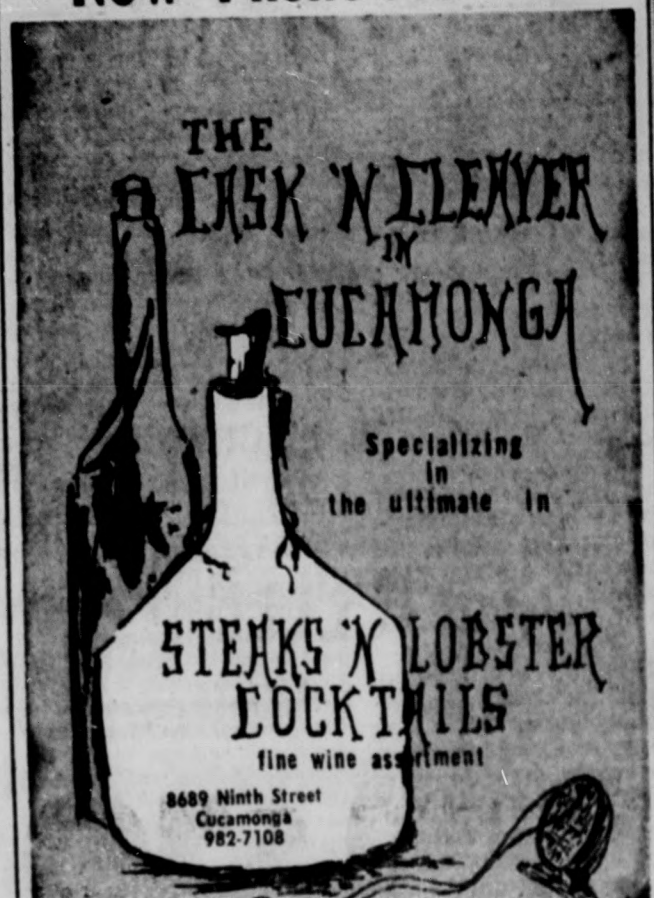

Stock is being furnished by Golden State Rodeo, Inc. of Arizona and California.

Quimby supports drug control bill

Assemblyman John Quimby (D-Rialto) issued the following statement in support of Assembly Bill 172, regarding drug and marijuana penalties, authored by Assemblyman Craig Biddle (R-Riverside):

"I am happy that the Assembly passed AB 172 by the substantial vote of 50 to 25 as I feel that this is the real method of getting to the problem of misuse of marijuana and dangerous drugs. Under AB 172 the law will be changed to read:

"That a person who is convicted of possession of marijuana may serve up to one year in the county jail on the first offense. The bill also provides that the first conviction of possession of restricted dangerous drugs (hypnotic drugs, amphetamines, LSD, DMT, etc.) shall be a felony.

"It is my opinion that this bill will place in the hands of law enforcement and the courts a more workable solution dealing with the terrible problem of misuse of marijuana and dangerous drugs. Assemblyman

Biddle's bill has the support of the California District Attorneys Association, California Peace Officers Association, California Medical Association, The State Bar of California, and the Attorney General of the State of California.

"The bill also has received favorable support from Chief of Police Thomas Reddin of Los Angeles and support of numerous newspapers such as the Los Angeles Times and Riverside Press-Enterprise and others.

Quimby hits court act on welfare

Assemblyman John P. Quimby (D-Rialto) offered the following resolution to the United States Supreme Court decision eliminating residency requirements for welfare recipients:

"As if we weren't confronted with a challenging enough struggle in meeting our commitments, the Supreme Court has now dealt another blow to the State of California by eliminating residency requirements to welfare recipients.

"I support Speaker Jesse Unruh's Resolution calling upon the Federal Congress to financially assist California to comply with the Supreme Court's action.

"Whatever good and constructive plans that might be formulated to cut down on spiraling welfare costs may well have to be shelved in a literal struggle for financial survival on the part of this State. I deem it most unfortunate that the Federal courts have again seen fit to throw another crippling blow into the finances of the State of California."

Fallacy in Property Values Uncovered By USC Researcher

LOS ANGELES - When Negroes move into a previously all-white neighborhood, it causes a drop in property values, right? Wrong.

The widespread belief that it does was labeled a myth today by a University of Southern California sociologist who has completed an extensive research study of "Changing Relative Housing Values in Negro and Caucasian Neighborhood" in Los Angeles.

John M. McQuiston, of USC's Population Research Laboratory, found that although tracts where Negroes live are in fact decreasing in relative cost, the price declines being long before they move into the area and not because they move in. Property value is not adversely affected by the entry of Negroes.

The price decline, which begins at least 10 years before Negroes move in, is due to housing becoming obsolete and less desirable to Caucasians, the study shows.

"The often-used term 'Negro invasion' is a misnomer. The Negro does not invade a neighborhood; it is bequeathed to him by the Caucasian who has moved on to newer and more desirable housing," said USC's McQuiston.

"The Negro, when he moves in, does not initiate a vacation of the area by white residents. By then, that trend has already been long established."

The USC researcher found that the entry of Negroes into a neighborhood initially serves as somewhat of a stabilizing factor; a decrease in the rate of decline occurs, at least temporarily.

"This can be attributed to the fact that middle class Negroes may be willing to pay a higher price than the property is worth," he said.

But the pattern in those areas is such that the rate of decline eventually rises again to the previously established level and the value continues to go downhill.

"The gap between Negro and Caucasian neighborhood is rising," said McQuiston.

"With the passage of time, tracts with a heavy Negro population are decreasing in relative value, while in those where few or no Negroes live, values are increasing.

Thus, the question: What are future prospects for integration in housing?

"It appears that the polarity between the races in housing will continue for some time, in view of the present pattern," McQuiston declared.

"It is predictable that middle-class Negroes who have the money to buy property will continue to move into declining areas which are vacated by Caucasians, and particularly areas which are closest to areas already inhabited by other Negroes.

"There is no question that housing discrimination exists in Los Angeles, and that definitely enters into the picture," he said.

"But fair housing laws have impact on only the middle-class Negroes, who are in the minority, because they have the money to get out of the ghetto and seek housing elsewhere."

McQuiston said the vast majority of Negroes are of the low-income bracket, and "there is paralytically no hope for them to move into more desirable neighborhoods because they simply do not have the money it takes to get out of the ghetto."

But it is not simply a matter of money.

"The bulk of the Negro population living in the ghettos do not lack only money. Many have inadequate jobs or the training necessary to obtain them. Residents of the ghetto have less formal education than found in Los Angeles as a whole.

"The picture is a product of more than 200 years of racial discrimination and all the multi-faceted problems that result from it.

"Legislation for open housing can only do so much," McQuiston declared. "And then the social system has to take over to solve the more basic problems."

McQuiston, who earned the bachelor's degree in sociology at USC, is working at university's Population Research Laboratory under the direction of USC's Dr. Maurice Van Arsdol Jr., professor of sociology and co-director of the laboratory.

McQuiston is also a research consultant with the Los Angeles County Department of Probation.

2 AM Knock On Door Welcome Sound For Her

CLAREMONT - When most people hear a knock on their door at 2 a.m., all sorts of thoughts go through their minds.

Not so with Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, Resident Advisor at Grace Scripps Hall on the Scripps College campus.

Sometimes she's busiest between 11 p.m. and 4 a.m. for that's the time 81 girls in the residence hall find best for discussing their problems.

"The problems vary. Everything from sex, drugs, studies and money to how to put a zipper in a skirt," the slender Scripps alumna says.

Mrs. Johnson attempts to help them objectively find the answers to their questions, or refer them to someone who can help.

"I've found counseling a wonderful experience, and I hope to continue doing some in my new position in July," the trim mother of two continued.

The new position will be that of Director of Financial Aid. Mrs. Johnson's appointment to the post was announced today by Mark H. Curtis, President of Scripps.

She will be the first fulltime Financial Aid Director at Scripps College, and, in that capacity, will carry out the policies of the Financial Aid Committee chaired by Mrs. Jean Kunz, Director of the Mary E. Eyre Nursery School.

"The committee is currently preparing an average budget. They are finding out exactly how much it costs to attend Scripps. Not just the usual tuition and dormitory fees, but the other expenses as well--books, extracurricular activities, clothes, etc. This way we will be able to offer the girls some guidelines in planning their budgets. Of course, the major part of my job will be to help them arrange partial financing for their education, either through grants, employment or loans."

Mrs. Johnson will miss the girls at Scripps Hall, but she feels they will benefit from having a new advisor, with a different personality and outlook.

"My year as a resident advisor has been simply wonderful," she said. "When my husband died last year, I did not want to remain alone in Thermal and the opportunity to return to Scripps helped see me through the first year alone."

Mrs. Johnson still pays twice monthly visits to the date and grapefruit ranch which she and her husband maintained since 1946.

During that time, Mrs. Johnson was head bookkeeper for the Thermal Union School District and for the past six years, lectured in the Humanities course for seniors at Coachella Valley Union High School.

She was the first graduate assistant in Humanities at Scripps College her graduation in 1935, and continued as a Humanities tutor after she received her M.A. in History from Claremont Graduate School in 1939.

Presently she's enrolled at CGS taking seminars in Identity Formation and Concepts of Community Psychology.

Mrs. Johnson, who was an Alumnae Trustee of the Scripps Board of Trustees from 1946 to 1951, is still a member of the Palm Spring Desert Museum Hikers and, when time permits, goes on ten miles a day hikes.

"We walk on the desert in the winter and in the mountains in the summer," she said.

She continues the hiking hobby when she finds time to visit her cabin at Echo Lake (10 miles from Lake Tahoe.) There, with no telephone, electricity or television for distraction, she hikes, swims, reads and visits with friends.

Her son, William Lawrence Johnson, is a jet pilot for Continental Airlines in Los Angeles, and her daughter, Mrs. Ann Johnson Hertel, is a teacher in Sacramento.

PITTOSPORUM RHOMBIFOLIUM -- is the technical name for the trees which placed in the alley next to the Upland News office last week. Similar foliage is planned for half streets and alleys in the Concourse area as well as Jacaranda trees for the center planters of the new development.

Spring Benefit Slated

"Flapper's Frolic" is the theme for an evening featuring "frolicking - flicks" and Dixie - land craze" for members of the Assistance League of Pomona Valley and their guests who will gather in flapper-era finery for the annual fund raising spring benefit on Saturday, May 11 at 7:30 p.m.

The Los Serranos Country Club in Chino will be decorated in speakeasy style, with the atmosphere enhanced by pictorial scenes of the stock market crash, prohibition, Lindbergh's first flight and Mafia rule.

Music will be provided by a Dixie-land band and a "honkeytonk" pianoplayer. Highlights of the evening will be three shows featuring professional dancers, a comedian and a torch singer. Provisional members of Assistance League will provide a picture-taking service with humorous and original back-drops.

All funds raised from this event will go toward the operation of the Assistance League of Pomona Valley's permanent project, the Hearing and Speech Center, 655 N. Palomares in Pomona. This center services the entire valley and is available to any child who has a speech difficulty due to a hearing loss.

Mrs. Roger Johnson and Mrs. Jerald Laird are co-chairmen of this event assisted by Mrs. Donald Middleton, Mrs. Ray Hays, Mrs. William Wilkinson, Mrs. James Laird, Mrs. William Garrison, Mrs. Dan Simmons, Mrs. Robert Allen and Mrs. Al Pontz.

Tickets may be purchased from all League members and Mrs. Frank Summers, ticket chairman.

Flower Holders

If you do not have enough flower holders, try using flat fern cup up and arranged thickly in a container. It provides a good base for the stems of the flowers. Since it absorbs water, it will help to keep the flowers fresh.

Sharing Toys

The 3 or 4-year-old should be taught not to take a toy out of another child's hand without first offering another in return. This eliminates confusion, crying and rudeness. It also teaches the children to share their toys and to make fair trades.

ANIMAL POTTERY

Those Indians who lived in New Mexico about a thousand years ago, painted pottery bowls with their version of the animals they hunted.

Meet Bonnie Harrington A member of our people-to-people program.

Two things Bonnie Harrington feels important are to be friendly with customers and show that you care about them as individuals. Bonnie has been a teller at Claremont Savings for more than a year. She's familiar with the community having attended Montclair High School. Bonnie was a spring sports queen while at school and, for three years, a member of the school Acappella Choir. Prior to joining us, Bonnie taught art for the Montclair Recreation Department. Bonnie's spare time activities include being a housewife and "taking my baby brother shopping." Come meet Bonnie.

Case in point when we talk about our people-to-people program. Friends and neighbors helping other friends and neighbors in this great Valley. That's what it's all about. A little more service... the kind you'd expect from a friend. The kind of concern about your money that's already made possible 39 years of uninterrupted interest payments. And safety. No one has ever lost a penny here.

Maybe it's why we've grown to more than $60,000,000 in assets. Maybe it's why people travel miles out of their way to do business here. Why not open your account. In person. And get acquainted with our people-to-people program.

Scout O Rama Sales Reach All Time High

Ticket sales for the Old Baldy Council's May 25th Scout-O-Rama have reached the $2,800 level according to Gerry Busby, Council Ticket Sales Chairman.

The number of Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts selling tickets has reached 160. This includes 53 in the Palomares District (Pomona, Walnut, Diamond Bar); 9 in the Rancho District (Chino); 35 in the Broken Arrow District (Ontario, Montclair); 25 in the Coahuilla District (Claremont, La Verne, San Dimas); 10 in the Big Horn District (Fontana, Etiwanda); and 28 in the Serrano District (Upland, Cucamonga, Alta Loma, Mt. Baldy).

Money received from ticket sales will be used in four places according to Busby. First of all it will pay for the prizes that boys earn for selling tickets, secondly a commission will be paid to the unit for tickets their boys sell, thirdly the expenses of the Scout-O-Rama will be paid, and fourth, the profits left after the first three have been paid will go toward meeting the Old Baldy Council's budget.

More than 9,000 boys are active in the Scouting program that will be held at the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds in Pomona, from 12 noon to 9:30 p.m.

Sheriff J. Peter Pitchess today extended an invitation to all residents of Los Angeles County to visit one of the fourteen Sheriff's Stations throughout Los Angeles County on the Department's annual Open House which has been set for Saturday, May 18, 1968 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., the final day of National Police Week.

This will be the eighth Open House presented by the Sheriff's Department co-sponsored by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce. The event will give the entire family an excellent opportunity to view law enforcement in action. Each Station will offer guided tours of the facility and there will be interesting exhibits for inspection.

The San Dimas Station is located at 122 North San Dimas Ave.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

by Ron White

Did you know that in the early days of big league baseball, some players refused to wear baseball gloves in the field because these men wanted to show how tough they were... What would happen today if a player refused to wear a glove? ... Answer: nothing... Did you know there really is no rule in the book requiring a fielder to use a glove... The rules only define what size the gloves may be, but they don't say that a player must wear one.

One of the strangest baseball careers any player ever had was the one by Walt Alston, manager of the Dodgers, when he was a player... In his entire career, Walt played in just one big league game... In that one game, he got to bat just one time, and what did he do? ... He struck out... And in the field, playing at first base, he handled just two chances — and made one error!

I bet you didn't know... Datsun 2000 Sports Car comes complete with all transistor radio, foam bucket seats. Deep pile carpets, locking console, plus glove compartment, whitewalls, large dial tachometer, tonneau cover, top boot... the works!

Church in America." The Reformed Church began in 1628.

Mr. Deere's responsibilities at the Valley Church will include direction of the Sunday Church School program, youth activities, specialized programs in Christian education such as Family Evening, and coordinator of specialized counseling programs.

Highway 38 Near Big Bar Listed As Scenic Route

A 15 1/2-mile segment of Route 38, the major route between Redlands and the south shore of Big Bear Lake in San Bernardino County, has been officially designated a state scenic highway by Director of Public Works Samuel B. Nelson.

The action followed recommendations made to Nelson by the State's Advisory Committee on a Master Plan for Scenic Highways.

Only two other thoroughfares in California have met the exact requisites demanded by the scenic highway designation. The first, a 72-mile section of Route 1 in Monterey County, was dedicated in 1966, and the second, a 23-mile segment of Route 35 (Skyline Boulevard) in San Mateo County was dedicated in January of this year.

The newly designated scenic highway provides outstanding views of the mountainous terrain near Big Bear Lake. It was built by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads in 1961 as a modern, two lane road within a 400 foot, access-controlled, right of way. Maximum grade on the roadway is six per cent and curve radius is a minimum 500 feet, providing excellent visibility throughout.

In announcing the designation of the State's third official state scenic highway, Nelson extended congratulations to the Board of Supervisors of San Bernardino County "for your recognition and protection of this outstanding scenic asset."

The official state scenic highway portion of Route 38 extends from just east of the South Fork Campground to almost three miles south of Route 18 at State Lane. The complete section lies within the borders of San Bernardino National Forest.

Rigid criteria designed to protect this scenic corridor traversed by the scenic highway had to be met before the Advisory Committee on a Master Plan for Scenic Highways would consider recommending the thoroughfare for Nelson's approval.

The State Scenic Highway System, established in 1963 by the State Legislature, comprises about 6,000 miles of highway throughout California. Only San Bernardino, Monterey and San Mateo counties, however, have passed all the necessary ordinances to qualify segments as official scenic highways but approximately 30 counties have completed some necessary requirements.

Sweet Adeline Conduct Drive

The Pomona Valley Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc. is presently conducting its annual membership drive.

The Pomona Valley Chapter received its charter in 1961 and currently has thirty three members. The chorus furnishes entertainment for many civic, charitable and cultural organizations, averaging about 20 singing engagements per year.

Rehearsals are held for the group each Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Claremont Methodist Church, Foot-

Clubs Plan Activities

The Y - Indian Guide Clubs in the Pomona Valley YMCA are planning their spring campout this year for May 18 and 19. The campout will be held at Lake Elsinore, State Recreation area.

Activities will include games, boating, swimming and camping. All fathers and sons in the Y-Indian Guide program are urged to make their reservations as soon as possible.

It has been estimated that English is spoken by 250 million people and is the world's second most important language in that respect.

Each spring the 40 choruses of the region compete for top honors in barbershop harmony. Highlights of the Pomona Valley Chapter include an annual show, regional competition, assorted Ways & Means projects, membership drives, inter-chapter visitations, Halloween, Christmas parties and miscellaneous social functions.

Decline in Deaths

Due to the development of antitoxin serums, deaths from tetanus, often called lockjaw, have declined in the United States from 1,472 in 1920 to an average of less than 300 per year.

An estimated 40,000 American colonists loyal to Britain fled to Canada between 1783-87. Most of them settled in the Maritime Provinces and Ontario.

CP Adds Greater Variety Of Courses For Summer

A greater variety of courses will be offered during the coming summer quarter at California State Polytechnic College, Pomona than during the six previous summers, according to an announcement by Dean of Students Henry House.

Aerospace engineering, anthropology, art and recreation courses will be making their initial appearance. More than a dozen new courses in advanced physical education and driver training will also be included. In all some 350 courses in 49 subjects are planned. They cover most of the majors, options, and service departments of the five schools of the college - Agriculture, Arts, Business Administration, Engineering, and Science-with required offerings for Teacher Preparation programs also available.

The 11 week quarter, beginning June 17 through August 30, is expected to draw 2,700 students.

The college facilities will operate as during the rest of the year with food service, air-conditioned housing for men and women students, swimming pools and recreation facilities, library and health services, counseling, and a program of student activities.

The summer quarter provides opportunities for an accelerated education program for junior college transfer students, recent high school graduates, entering freshmen and continuing college students in search of summer units.

Dean House points out that students enrolled for the summer quarter earn full unit credit as part of a year-round program. The quarter is not to be confused with brief summer sessions at other institutions, he states.

Cal Poly, Pomona was one of the first state colleges to go on year-round, four - quarter operation. Others are Cal State, Hayward and Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo.

A printed summer schedule is available to enable prospective students to coordinate their spring and fall quarter studies with summer quarter enrollment.

Further information may be obtained from the Admissions Office, California State Polytechnic College, Kellogg-Voorhis, Pomona, Calif. 91766.

AND HOW ABOUT IT?
Every two years or so, the State Board of Education sees fit to another course to the complex curriculum of our schools -there are so many now the fundamentals are apparently lost as comparative scores with other states bear out.

And if we are going to add another-how about a course in manners. The growing up generation isn't learning about them at home or school either.

Do you remember when older folks received respect and when a door was opened for a woman or older person.

Try walking down the hallway of any junior or senior high school class today and you are in danger of being knocked off your feet-without an excuse me please.

NOTE FOR TODAY

If you take an interest in education-the same you pay for with your tax-dollars-you are automatically placed in the category of a dissident. In such a case we believe it is a title of dignity.

Famed naturalist-photographer Heinz Sielmann recently spent days shivering in an icy blind perched on a Pribilof Island cliff to make closeups of the bizarre tufted puffin.

New Pear Dessert

Broil fresh halved and cored pears or use canned pears for this quick and easy dessert. Place fruit on buttered baking dish, inside up. Sprinkle with a cinnamon-sugar mixture combining ration of 1 tablespoon sugar to 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon. Add small piece of butter to each pear center and bake or broil until pears are brown and fragrant.

Richard Grauer

CHINO - Airman First Class Richard P. Grauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grauer of 5303 Gettysburg, has been named Outstanding Airman in his unit at Ft. MacArthur Army Installation.

Airman Grauer, a radar repairman, was selected for his exemplary conduct and duty performance. He is a graduate of Chino High School.

Save the Rind

Keep a jar handy in the kitchen and in it place the orange peel after extracting your breakfast orange juice. Within a few days, you will have enough skins to make either candied orange peel, orange marmalade, orange and apple jelly, or just plain grated orange rind for use in cooking and baking.

The blizzard of 1888 concentrated on New York City. Snow began falling Sunday night March 11. By Monday morning, drifts were knee-high. Before noon, every horsecar, cable car and elevated train had stopped running. Firemen raised ladders to rescue passengers from stalled elevated trains.

Frozen Suckers

Give the children a treat by making them frozen suckers. Freeze sweetened fruit juice, chocolate milk, or one of the ade drinks, in the ice cube trays and place a stick in each cube. This gives the child frozen healthful suckers with handy handles.

Season Steak

Next time you charbroil a steak, rub it first with lemon juice, olive oil, garlic powder and chopped parsley. Broil, sprinkle with salt and freshly ground pepper and dab with butter before serving.

IN 'ANYTHING GOES' - Final presentation of the 1967-68 season by the Valley Community Theatre is the popular "Anything Goes". The musical will be presented on Friday and Saturday evenings at the VCT location at 887 W. 4th Street. Reservations may be made by calling 622-6954. Shown above is Bell Ellig, one of the stars of the musical with a male member of the musical cast.

'Anything Goes' Final VCT Performance Of Current Year

Valley Community Theatre brings to the boards Cole Porter's following musical "Anything Goes" as the final event of the 1967-68 season.

Featured in the large cast are Dell Ellig, Dee Wallace, Jack Fisher, Diana Masters, Ron Dulaney, Vernice Paye, Priscilla Davis, Harold Goodell, and David Ambrose. Directing the production is VCT veteran, R.M. (Dick) Fisher, last seen as Jeeter in "Tobacco Road."

"Anything Goes" was created at the height of Cole Porter's illustrious career and it contains many of his best known and liked songs. Among them are: "It's Delovely," "You're the Top," "Friendship," "I Get a Kick Out of You," "Blow Gabriel," and of course "Anything Goes." The cast is guided through these and many other songs with the help of Musical Director Jackie Fisher and noted Carousell choreographer, Audrey Purkiss, assisted by Rolf Haas. Accompanying the cast on piano and drums are Jackie Fisher, Mike Kessler, and Kim Kraut. Playing the Four Angels are Cyndi Behee, Cathy Moore, and Maxine Andrews. Other dancers and members of the chorus, who have been rehearsing for over two months, are: Rolf Haas, Dan Kline, Chris Cornelson, Dean Spencer, Harvey Dershin, Don Insko, Bonnie Insko, Barbara Dershin, Barbara Welsh, and Marianna Eckel. Producers for the show are Carol Lane and Harold Goodell.

Others involved in the production are: Ted Evans, stage manager; Scott McCarthy, lighting; Charles Fielder, sound; Jeanette Davis, make-up; Celeste Blaine, prop manager; and Audrey Purkiss, hair styles. The set was constructed by Milton Sawitz and his sons.

"Anything Goes" opened May 2, and will run the following Friday and Saturday nights through June 1 with a possibility of extensions. Curtain time is promptly at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are available at the box office on show nights, and phone reservations, 622-6954, are being accepted. Theater parties are welcome and group rates are available at a discount.

The theater is located at 887 W. 4th St. (corner of 4th and White) in Pomona. Prices are $2.50 for adults, $1.75 for students, and $2.00 for members. Also available at the box office are tickets for the annual VCT Awards Banquet set for June 29 at the Elks Lodge.

Removing Oil

Remove those unsightly oil spots from either wood or concrete by making a paste of Fuller's earth and dry cleaner. Then poltice the spot repeatedly, and in most cases the paste will entirely remove it.

Serve Eggnog

Eggnog does not need to be reserved for Christmas and New Year's festivities. Serve it—minus spirits of course—for a breakfast drink. An orange nog, a combination of orange juice and milk, is one way of supplying vitamin C to the diet.

Vocational Teacher As US 'Teacher Of Year'

David E. Graf, a vocational education and industrial arts teacher in Sandwich, Illinois, has been named the 1968 National Teacher of the Year, it was announced today.

Graf, who is coordinator of the "Diversified Occupations" program at Sandwich (Illinois) Community High School, was selected for his skill in handcrafting future careers for his teenage students and for his "superior ability to impart knowledge and inspire students with a love of learning."

Graf's National Teacher of the Year Award was presented in a White House ceremony on April 30. The National Teacher of the Year awards program is sponsored annually by LOOK Magazine in cooperation with the Council of Chief State School Officers. The Award symbolizes the importance of education and the accomplishments of teachers everywhere. It is intended to encourage all teachers to aspire to greatness in their chosen profession, to focus attention on the thousands of excellent teachers in America's schools and to interest more young people in pursuing teaching careers.

Mrs. Newton To Direct UW Group

Mrs. Stanford (Pat) Newton will again this year direct the Group Mobilization phase of the United Crusade in the Pomona Valley Area.

"The object of Group Mobilization, said Mrs. Newton, is to motivate people to offer their services as volunteers in the United Crusade. The United Crusade raises funds to support the voluntary health and welfare organizations offering services and programs to make this community a better place in which to live and work", she added.

"As volunteers in the United Crusade, she continued, we become more knowledgeable about the changes and problems that exist today in our community and what is being done to, not only meet them, but what is being done to stabilize and strengthen the social atmosphere."

Mrs. Newton's very successful organization of Group Mobilization last year made her the natural nominee for the same position this year. Over the years Mrs. Newton has established a pattern of volunteer service with the United Crusade, Girl Scouts and PTAs vying for the maximum amount of her time.

Both Mrs. Newton and her husband give generously of their time and talents to projects which will benefit the community, with emphasis on youth services and programs. Almost all of these projects, with the exception of the PTA activities, are connected with United Crusade supported programs. The Newtons feel strongly that a Fair Share gift to the United Crusade is the most effective way to assure a balanced network of service in the community. "When you give the United Way, said Mrs. Newton, you can be sure that your contribution is going where it can do the most good. The funds are allocated on a needs basis, which is determined by a volunteer budget committee," she added.

Pomona is home for the Newtons and their daughters Katy, Karen and Mary and son, Bill.

Bonelli Blasts Ruling On Welfare Residency

Unless a Federal Court decision prohibiting enforcement of California's residence requirements in all of the State welfare programs is reversed, Los Angeles County Supervisor Chairman Frank G. Bonelli declared today that significant increases in County and State costs will result in the operation of the welfare programs.

Supervisor Bonelli sponsored a series of motions at the April 23 meeting of the Board of Supervisors aimed at reversing the decision of a three-judge Federal Court which last week in San Francisco issued a temporary injunction against the Director of the State Department of Social Welfare barring him from enforcing the residence requirements in the welfare programs.

"If this decision stands in effect," Bonelli asserted, "it will be another in a series of events at the Federal level that will substantially boost both County and State costs of dispensing financial assistance to relief recipients."

He pointed out that other recent developments that have affected welfare costs in the County include the Federal curtailment on financial participation in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children Program and in Aid to Unemployed Fathers, and the new Work Incentive Program to be effective July 1.

"If the State's residence requirements for welfare are eliminated there will undoubtedly be an additional significant increase in County costs for the State welfare programs," Bonelli emphasized. "It is my understanding that unless this Court decision can be appealed, it will be effective on all counties in the State immediately."

Bonelli's motions; adopted unanimously:

1. Instructed the County Counsel and the Director of the Department of Public Social Services to give all possible help to the State Department of Social Welfare in attempting to get the federal panel decision reversed.

2. Instructed the County Legislative Representatives both in Sacramento and Washington, D.C., to explore every possible avenue of securing legislation which will require the Federal Government to pick up all of the costs for aiding non-residence cases if this decision is allowed to stand.

3. Directed that copies of the motions be sent to Spencer Williams administrator of the State Health and Welfare Agency; John Montgomery, director of the State Department of Social Welfare; Los Angeles County Legislative Representatives in Sacramento and Washington, and the County Supervisors Association of California.

"Waiving the residency requirement could well be an open invitation for relief seekers from throughout the country to flock to California and Los Angeles County at the expense of the local taxpayers," Bonelli stormed. "It is imperative that we do everything possible to counteract this series of Federal legislative actions that could drastically increase our local costs in the welfare program."

In 1731 the world's first magazine titled "The Gentleman's Magazine" was published in London.

Automatic Voting Machines Generally Well Accepted

Twenty-one cities contracted with the County Registrar - Recorder to use the new automatic voting devices for the first time April 9 in their municipal elections and reported "overwhelming acceptance of the new balloting procedure," Supervisor Chairman Frank G. Bonelli said today.

Bonelli announced that a post-mortem report he had received from the Registrar - Recorder's office, the County department responsible for the conduct of elections in the County, indicated that all of the participating cities were satisfied with the new vote-recording devices.

High among the reasons for the acceptance was that of being able to get faster results—a marked improvement over the former system which involved tedious hand-counting of all ballots.

Developed for the County by IBM and known as the "Votomatic," the use of the devices is basically a punch-card system which enables high-speed tallying of the returns. It will get its first Countywide baptism under fire at the June 4 primary, the supervisor pointed out.

Approximately 105,000 voters in the 21 cities used the voting devices, the report said, and the average time elapsing between the close of the polls and the final results was two hours. The first city which completed tallying the returns was able to announce the results one hour and 53 minutes after the polls closed.

Bonelli commended those city clerks who undertook to use the new system for their cities' contributions toward "faster and more accurate elections. Cities using the devices were Azusa, Bellflower, Commerce, Covina, Culver City, El Monte, El Segundo, Hermosa Beach, Lakewood, La Verne, Lynwood, Monrovia, Monterey Park, Norwalk, Rolling Hills Estates, San Fernando, Walnut and Whittier.
